

NO MORE PARADES

by
FORD MADOX FORD

---

READ FOR LibriVox BY PETER DANN

No More Parades Ford Madox Ford

When No More Parades was first published in 1925, a critic in The Observer wrote of the first 100 pages that they "easily surpass in truth, brilliance and subtlety everything else that has yet been written in England about the physical circumstances and moral atmosphere of the war". The second novel in the Parade's End tetralogy, No More Parades places army captain (and former civil servant and statistician) Christopher Tietjens, his beautiful but cruel wife Sylvia, and Tietjens' jealous and tempestuous godfather and commanding officer General Campion in, and just behind, the lines at Rouen, France in 1917, where Christopher finds himself subject not only to physical, but also to mental and moral torments that speak volumes about the society of which he is a part, and which will perhaps surprise many a modern reader/listener. - Summary by Peter Dann

Read by Peter Dann. 13 Tracks. Total running time: 08:26:22

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover image from the title page. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by TriciaG. This design is in the public domain.

No More Parades -- Ford Madox Ford

No More Parades -- Ford Madox Ford